~~CONFIDENTIAL~~REPORT OF AUDIT APPRAISAL
Financial Resources System

31 August 1981

SUMMARY

1. The Financial Resources System (FRS) generally provides Agency managers with reliable and timely information. Attention to opportunities to remove deficiencies and implement worthwhile enhancements has kept the FRS current in changing technological and budgetary environments. However, all of the necessary documentation has not been similarly kept current. This report therefore contains comments and recommendations concerning the need to update the user's manual and certain system documentation.

SCOPE

2. The audit was conducted to determine the effectiveness of controls and procedures associated with the operation and maintenance of the FRS to ensure the timely production of reliable information. The data preparation, error correction, and month-end processing procedures were observed and evaluated. Users of the FRS were interviewed to determine their satisfaction with the system. User and system documentation were reviewed for completeness and accuracy. FRS computer programs were not reviewed.

BACKGROUND

3. The FRS is a sophisticated computer application designed to provide Agency managers with timely and reliable information to support their budgetary and fiscal responsibilities. The Office of Finance (OF) coordinates and controls all aspects of the system's operation. The Office of Data Processing (ODP) programmed the FRS during the early 1970's and, as requested by the OF, provides continuing technical support to the operation and maintenance of the system.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~DETAILED COMMENTSUser Documentation

4. The FRS user's manual is out of date. It has not been updated since June 1976, even though there have been many changes affecting FRS since then. The OF has issued memoranda to users concerning changes to the FRS; however, they do not include all changes and are not easily incorporated into the user's manual. As a result the OF/Data Base Administrator has to counsel budget and fiscal officers who have problems or questions concerning the changed uses and capabilities of the FRS.

5. Although the OF is aware of the need to update the user's manual and has been working on it intermittently, an intensified effort is needed.

Recommendation #1 (For OF): Update and reissue the FRS user's manual.

Recommendation #2 (For OF): Establish procedures to keep the FRS user's manual current.

System Documentation

6. A review of the ODP's technical documentation of the FRS disclosed that production manuals are complete and current, but that portions of the application and program manuals are incomplete or out of date. Items requiring revision include flow charts, data descriptions and data cross-references. The programmers who maintain the FRS rely on the application and program manuals to assess the feasibility and impact of proposed changes and to identify and resolve problems as they occur. Incomplete or out-of-date documentation complicates the programming effort required to maintain the FRS.

Recommendation #3 (For ODP): Review the application and program manuals of the FRS and update as required.

REPORT OF AUDIT
Executive Dining Room

For the Period
1 December 1979 - 30 June 1981

BACKGROUND

1. The Executive Dining Room (EDR) provides a private dining area for senior Agency officials where classified discussions may be held. In addition, EDR caters official and nonofficial Agency functions. The Office of Logistics/Logistics Services Division is responsible for EDR financial and personnel administration. A cleared manager, who is an independent contractor, and eight Agency staff employees operate the EDR.

SCOPE AND OPINION

2. We have examined the statement of financial position of EDR at 30 June 1981 and the related statements of operations and changes in financial position for the nineteen-month period then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and included such tests of the accounting records and other auditing procedures as we considered necessary under the circumstances.

3. In our opinion the accompanying financial statements present fairly the financial position of EDR at 30 June 1981 and the results of operations and changes in financial position for the 19 months then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a consistent basis.

AUDIT COMMENTS

4. The Executive Dining Room continues to be administered in an effective manner, with financial records maintained in accordance with acceptable commercial practices. Observations pertaining to various administrative matters, such as taking inventory, maintaining subsidiary ledgers, and preparation of financial statements, were discussed with responsible individuals and resolved during the audit.

5. This report contains no recommendations.
